

HOWARD UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

ALUMNI-IN-RESIDENCE (A.I.R.)

HU Alumni are invited to join the Center for Career Excellence (CCE) as an Alumni-In-Residence (AIR) Career Counselor and Professional Developer!

What is an Alumni-in-Residence? An Alumni-In-Residence is an HU Alum who volunteers their time to assist the CCE to provide career counseling and professional development to prepare current students for the workplace.

Career readiness is key to success in the workplace. As an Alumni-In-Residence, alums will work in a career counseling capacity to assist current School of Business students in areas such as interview prep, resume reviews, and answering career or industry questions.

Through the Alumni-in-Residence Program, the Center for Career Excellence will invite alumni to come to campus to participate in panels and interactive skills training workshops to share their expertise as well as lead talks as part of the Alumni-In-Residence Lecture Series.

Alumni will be selected to represent the broad range of career interests of the students and skills sought by employers. Alums interested in contributing to the professional development of current HU School of Business students by becoming an Alumni-in-Residence, can email HUSB-Career@howard.edu to get started!
